

Air Line Trail State Park, Salmon River
State Forest, Colchester, CT

Blackledge River Railroad Bridge a riveted steel, double-intersection Warren deck truss. Originally constructed in the 1870's by the New York and Boston Air Line Railroad and rebuilt in 1912 to increase flood clearance and load-bearing capacity.
The Bridge is on the National Register of Historic Places. The Air Line Trail is 50 miles and stretches across eastern Connecticut from East Hampton to Thompson.
